Poetical. My Old Cane-Bottomed Chair.

BY W. M. THACKERAY,. 'Tis a bandy-legged, high-shouldered, wormthere,
I bless thee and love thee, my cane-bottomed chair!

If chairs have but feeling, in holding such charms,
A thrill must have passed through your withered old arms;
I looked and longed, and wished in despair—
I wished myself turned to a cane-bottomed chair.

It was but a moment ste sat in this place;
She'd a scarf on her neck, and a smile on her face!

A smile on her face, and a rose in her hair,
And she sat there and bloomed in my cane-bottomed chair.

And so I have valued my chair ever since,
Like the shrine of a saint, or the throne of a prince: prince; Saint Fauny, my patroness sweet, I declare, The queen of my heart and cane-bottomed chair.

I sit there alone, but we yet are a pair— My Fanny I see in my cane-bottomed chair. She comes from the past and revisits my room; She looks as she then did, all beauty and bloom; So smiling and tender, so fresh and so far; And yonder she sits in my cane-bottomed chair.

When candles burn low, and the company's gone, In the silence of night as I sit there alone—
